

A map of the Eastern Hemisphere, including Africa, Europe, Asia, and Australia, with a grid of latitude and longitude lines. Red dots indicate sampling locations. The dots are concentrated in the Indian Ocean region, particularly around the Seychelles, Madagascar, and the East African coast, with a few additional dots in the Western Pacific and the Indian Ocean near Australia.